Leadership School

Dream Dinner

June 17 2017

Creating a new story of healthcare: what is your dream?

Tomorrow's healthcare starts here and now, with ourselves. The Healthcare Leadership School brings together medical students and young doctors from all over the world and gives them a platform for personal development.

We would like to share our dreams, and would like to invite you to share yours. This evening is an invitation to come together and let dreams roam free – an invitation to medical students, doctors, researchers, politicians, and everyone with a passion for healthcare. For an evening of food, music, storytelling, meaningful conversation, wonder, and simply to reconnect to what we care about.

Location: All Saints Camp
833 Hickory Grove Rd, Leitchfield KY

Time: 5:30 PM
