

ACCREDITED PROVIDERS OF CME

The Kentucky Medical Association is recognized by the Accreditation Council on Continuing Medical Education as the Kentucky accreditor of intrastate CME sponsors. The KMA Accreditation Program:

1. assists institutions in developing high quality CME programs,
2. increases physicians' access to quality practice-based CME in the local community, and
3. identifies and accredits Kentucky entities whose overall CME program meets or exceeds the accreditation standards of the KMA and ACCME.

The University of Louisville School of Medicine and the University of Kentucky College of Medicine, along with KMA, are nationally accredited by the ACCME to provide individual CME activities.
